Becoming a Governor – an introduction

School governors are education's unsung volunteer heroes. Thousands of people across the UK support their local school by becoming a school governor.

If you are interested in becoming a school governor in any type of school – community school, church school or academy – then please come along to this session and find out about:

- different types of schools;
- roles and responsibilities of governors;
- useful skills;
- critical friendship
- time commitment.
